

THE EPISCOPAL DIOCESE OF FLORIDA

Robert K. (Bob) White Treasurer, The Episcopal Diocese of Florida

Bob was born and raised in Jacksonville. He was baptized and grew up in the former Grace Chapel Church (now known as San Jose Episcopal). After graduating from Wolfson High School, he attended the University of Florida where he obtained his BSBA with a major in Finance and a minor in Accounting, and his Masters in Business Administration (MBA) with a concentration in Finance.

Bob began his forty-year career starting in the Consulting business at Arthur Andersen & Co. (now known as Accenture) and achieved a goal of traveling the U.S. and abroad helping clients, mostly in the Manufacturing and Distribution industries. He then joined Barnett Banks, Inc. in Jacksonville and worked in senior finance and operations roles in their non-banking-owned companies.

Additional stops in his career included working in Technology Finance and Real Estate and Construction, both in the Cell Tower and Shopping Center sectors, the latter as Chief Operating Officer for thirteen years with the Jacksonville-based Sleiman Company – a Real Estate Development and Property Management company.

He currently serves in consulting roles, primarily in the Real Estate and Construction industries. Bob has been active in the Episcopal Church attending Christ Church Ponte Vedra, All Saints and currently Church of Our Saviour in Mandarin. He has served on numerous Vestries, served as Treasurer at All Saints and has been the Treasurer at Church of Our Saviour for twelve years.

He and his wife Becky have been active in Cursillo over the years and have served as Cursillo Rector and Rectora. They have three children – Matthew who lives in Heaven, Katelyn who lives with husband John and sons James and Charlie in Charleston, and Andrew of Jacksonville. Current residents at their home include Golden Retrievers Gracie and Rosie.

